CHARGES RIVAL WITH GIVING HER POISONED CANDY

(Special from United Press.)
St. Louis, Oct. 22.—Whether they have a case of attempted assassination or whether it is the simple vengeance of one woman who endeavored to bring public disgrace to another, is the problem that the police here are today trying to solve from the contradictory statements of two women connected with supposed poison candy plot.

Mrs. Annette Lillard declares Mrs. Maude Ridley, a widow, gave her a box of candy after a quarrel over Lillard. The candy, she said, tasted queerly and she sent it to the city chemist who found it poisoned. Mrs. Ridley admits that she is fond of Lillard but denies she tried to poison Mrs. Lillard. She says she gave Mrs. Lillard no candy. Mrs. Ridley says she was the one who gave the candy and discussed several subjects with the Lillards. She says it was decided that Lillard should get a divorce and that Mrs. Lillard consented to the arrangement. Mrs. Lillard gave an opposite account of the meeting. She said Mrs. Ridley agreed to leave St. Louis and have nothing more to do with Lillard.

She walked to the car she said, with Mrs. Ridley and then Mrs. Ridley handed her the candy.

Mother and Children
In Need; Husband
Prisoner in Jail

The wife and four children of Jacob Sherer who is in jail awaiting trial in the criminal superior court for theft of chickens, have applied for assistance from the charities department and have received it. The mother with her little brood told Supt. Birmingham of her straitened circumstances and he referred her to the charities department.

President Stone Agreeable

President James J. Stone of the Board of Charities denied today the statement that he was opposed to the erection of the proposed garage in the rear of police headquarters. He denied saying that he would do nothing to assist in the erection of the building. The statement in last night's Farmer that he was agreeable to the proposed plan was correct.

ONCE MORE THE "OTHER WOMAN"

Mrs. Mary E. Grover of Atlantic street told Judge L. F. Burpee, in the superior court, this afternoon, that her husband, William A. Grover, had left her because she had reprimanded him because of another woman. The couple were married Feb. 8, 1899, and the separation occurred, Labor Day 1905. Mrs. Grover told the court that she had heard that another woman, whom she was told was Mrs. John Keller, was paying attention to her husband. One evening she followed her husband and saw him meet the woman. She told the husband that with the wages he received he could not maintain two homes. The next morning he left home for good. Later she found out that the woman in the case and her husband were living on Roosevelt street. The decree was granted for desertion.

Earthquake Wipes Out Whole Indian Cities

London, Oct. 22.—Belpat is about 127 miles from Quetta in the heart of the wildest country in British India. It is practically impossible to secure a definite information from Baluchistan while under British rule, is inhabited by wild tribesmen. The full extent of the casualties will probably never be known as the tribal villages throughout Eastern Baluchistan are scattered far and wide through a mountainous country without any means of communication. The earthquake is undoubtedly the disturbance recorded by the instruments at the Isle of Wight Observatory. Wednesday night the earthquake was so severe the shock to be extraordinarily severe.

Fox-Zeiderman Case Linger

There are no new developments in the Fox-Zeiderman suit which involves property on Main street, near Congress street, where S. Z. Fox intends to erect his new theatre. It is understood that the pleadings will be closed within a few days. The case will consist of six taxpayers of the city since this is a summary process suit. Ordinarily the jury is selected from the inhabitants of the county.

Miss Florence Smith

A very enjoyable surprise party was tendered to Miss Florence Smith at her home, 137 West avenue, last evening, by forty of her young schoolmates and friends. A picked sextette composed of Harry Hawes, Russell MacDonald, Homer Taylor, Herbert Hallett, DeWolfe and Milton Lemery, sang a number of selections. At 11 o'clock a bountiful collation was served. Among those present were Misses Bertha Roberts, Anna Roberts, Susie Boland, Irene Heade, Esther Roberts, Mabel Stanton, Mabel Kacovsky, Olga Keller, Catherine Mahoney, Agnes Weston, Margaret Gill, Hazel Daniels, Vera Broad, Betty Weisburg, Florence Smith, Lillian Smith, Loretta Murray, and Misses Cleo DeWolfe, Herbert Hallett, Russell MacDonald, Harry Hawes, Homer Taylor, William Taylor, Milton Lemery, Harry Wenzel, Leonard Post, Lewis Cranish, George Hurley, Ambrose Osborn and Mr. Donnelly, and many others.

WALL STREET TO-DAY.

Noon—The weak tone of the market continued throughout the forenoon with prices of leading issues declining more than two points. Uneasiness caused by the increase in the Bank of England rate was the principal reason for the heavy selling. Early in the afternoon a slightly firmer tone became evident.

KNOCKERS' CLUB ATE COON SUPPER

To the Editor of the Farmer:
Sir—Last evening at Walnut Beach a large gathering of the business and professional men of the beach got together and inaugurated what is to be called the Knockers' Club, a club on the lines of the Stove Pipe Club of Stratford. To start off right they had a very fine raccoon supper at which eighteen sat down. The money was very elaborately gotten up and was served by Mr. and Mrs. John J. Dillane and Mrs. Harris. The toastmaster of the evening was W. H. Wallace, who very ably filled the bill. Officers were elected as follows: Chief High Knockers, M. J. Cheney; Vice Chief High Knockers, J. W. Porter, W. H. Wallace, H. Wakley; Treasurer, John J. Dillane; Inside Guard, Harry Porter; Press committee, E. C. Stultz, Bridgeport; F. S. Downs, Milford; G. Lee Wooding, Waterbury.

The following are the charter members who took part in the supper: M. J. Cheney, J. W. Porter, W. H. Wallace, H. Wakley, J. Heelan, E. C. Stultz, J. R. Davison, H. Porter, O. G. Harris, E. Hotchkiss, Pop Sewell, Geo. Camp, Geo. Swaine, F. S. Downs, G. Lee Wooding, E. H. Washburn, E. B. Trueman, W. E. Nichols, W. Abbott. There appeared to be some doubt about the way the coon was served. Messrs. Cheney and Porter both solemnly affirming that they used number six shot, but upon cleaning Mr. Coon he was found to contain no culture ball. The meeting adjourned at midnight, all voting it one of the best ever.

PUBLIC BENEFACTOR DIES IN STAMFORD

Stamford, Oct. 22.—The funeral service of Miss Myra J. Davis is to be held tomorrow at 2 p. m. at Norton Presbyterian Church. Miss Davis died Wednesday night at Dr. Barnes' Sanitarium where she had been under treatment for about three months. She was seventy-one years old. She was a native of Vermont and when the Fitch Home for Soldiers' Orphans was established at Norton during the Civil War she was its principal donor. During a period when funds for the Home were slow in coming or not available, she used her own money, amounting to several thousands of dollars, to keep it going. Long afterwards she formally recognized her service and her sacrifice by granting her a small pension which was sufficient to supply her simple needs when she could no longer earn an income. After the school for soldiers' orphans was discontinued Mrs. Davis conducted a private school for some time in a home building which later became the nucleus for the present Soldiers' Home.

Wife May Keep Furniture

Mrs. Langlois obtained a divorce from Langlois on the ground of intolerable cruelty. She remarried. Langlois then wanted her furniture which he claimed belonged to him. He claimed $100 damages.

More Paving Farce

Secretary Bernard Keating of the paving commission received word from the United States Wood Preserving Co., today to the effect that the wood blocks to be used in the paving of Main street had been shipped by vessel and the original plan of shipping by vessel was abandoned. This morning the railroad company commenced to dump its wood blocks along the street in preparation to do its share of the work.

BLERIOT AND FLYING MACHINE THAT WRIGHTS CALL INFRINGEMENT

Wilbur Wright, the aviator, has asked the United States court in New York city to restrain Ralph Saulnier, who is now in this country, from giving exhibitions with or disposing of the flying machines of the type that Louis Blériot used in flying across the English channel. Wright contends that the Blériot machine is a clear infringement on the patents obtained by his brother and himself in the United States and France. Saulnier is Blériot's representative and is over here to sell machines and make money out of exhibitions. The Wrights set up in their petition the well known fact that they are the originators of the aeroplane, and they make the further point that while it is easy enough to fly in a straight line, with an aeroplane of proper construction, the warping of the ends of the planes, their own invention, is necessary for curved flights.

DEATH SENTENCE FOR CHILD SLAYER

Utica, N. Y., Oct. 22.—Theodore Rizzo, who has been held since Monday on the charge of murdering Theresa Procoppio and Freddy Infusino in the Eagle street culvert on the night of Sept. 12 has been convicted of murder in the first degree. Following the announcement of the verdict, which was reached after a little over an hour's deliberation, Rizzo said he was ready for sentence to be pronounced, and Justice Rogers read the death sentence at the time for his execution. The convicted man was taken to Auburn Prison.

Rizzo displayed no concern over his fate. While the jury was deliberating he slept, and some effort was required to awaken him when he was summoned to the courtroom to learn the verdict. It became known yesterday that he made a confession to his attorney, J. A. Cullen, just before the trial. It is said that he is anxious to die.

After sentence had been pronounced one of the guards asked Rizzo why he had murdered the children.

"I don't know; I was drunk," Rizzo replied.

The testimony which had a large bearing on the outcome of the trial was given by Fanny Infusino, aged 6 years, one of the victims, whom he left for dead in the lonely culvert where she was found the following morning. She had a bullet wound in her arm, but had fully recovered, and was in court with her parents when sentence was pronounced upon Rizzo.

LYNCHING MOB DEFIES MILITIA

(Special from United Press.)
Greenville, Tex., Oct. 22.—With three companies of militia on guard this town is recovering from the excitement that followed the lynching late last night of Frank and Lewis Williams, negroes, for an alleged assault on Mrs. Will Lloyd. The mob which lynched the negroes took them out of the custody of the troops, who would not fire and whose unloaded muskets were useless. The prisoners were hardly in the jail when the mob demanded their release. The sheriff refused to give them up and while he was parleying with them Company M of the 4th Texas was ordered out. When the soldiers arrived the mob had broken down the door of the jail and was taking the negroes out to hang them. The mob followed the negroes and the mob and the mob had retained possession of the negroes and dragged them to the outskirts of the city. They were strung up to a telegraph pole and riddled with bullets. While this was going on Governor Campbell was appealed to by the sheriff who feared a general attack on the negro quarter and two additional companies of militia were hurried to the scene. They found nothing to do however as the mob had dispersed and are being held at the jail to-day to prevent further outbreaks.

TEXTILE WORKERS ELECT OFFICERS

(Special from United Press.)
Washington, Oct. 22.—The United Textile Workers of America, in convention here to-day, re-elected with one exception every one of their officers for the ensuing year. Thomas Morgan of Paterson, N. J., was chosen general secretary and was also re-elected as second vice-president. The officers re-elected followed:

President, John Golden, Fall River; first vice-president, James Tansley, Fall River; secondary treasurer, Albert Hibbard, Fall River.

The most important work of the convention to-day was the adoption of an amendment to the by-laws whereby the emergency committee including the president, vice-president and treasurer, are given authority to call strikes, provided their vote is unanimous in favor of such action. Hereafter strikes could be called only on authority of the general executive council and as President Golden explained the organization was greatly hampered in securing immediate adjustment of difficulties by the time lost in assembling the council.

The executive committee was authorized to transfer General Organizer Charles Miles from his work in Paterson, to organizing work elsewhere, as soon as arrangements could be perfected. An organizer was also provided for the Dover and Summersworth, N. H., mills.
